

Acknowledgments

This report was made possible by various dynamic leaders from across the city. We recognize that while we worked to bring together a diverse group with a wide range of voices and experiences, there is more to do to engage Chicagoans in a new vision for our city. Community engagement is an ongoing process. The recommendations in the Transition Report are intended to serve as a starting place - we know that people also have much more to share! We are grateful to the nearly 400 Co-Chairs and participants who dedicated many hours to meeting, debating, and sharing ideas and recommendations for Mayor Johnson. We're grateful to everyone who came together over the last five weeks to share their ideas for building a safer, better, stronger Chicago. Thank you to the following people for being the embodiment of the soul of Chicago. Your brilliance and commitment help make this city better for all of us.
